

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention provides a quantum structure product comprising a substrate having quantum ridges and quantum tips on at least one surface thereof. In some embodiments of the invention quantum ridges may support quantum wires and the quantum tips may support quantum dots. Grooves which separate the quantum ridges and quantum tips from each other may be shallow or deep, and may contain organic molecules, fullerene tubes, and fullerene balls.